

Job-Related Fraud Notice

Pure Storage Recruiters will always contact you using an email format of name@purestorage.com. If you have received suspicious inquiries from “representatives of Pure” including any of the items listed below regarding job opportunities, this is fraudulent activity.

Signs of Fraudulent Job-Related Activity

- Messages coming from or appearing to be a personal email or instant message account (e.g. AOL, FaceTime, Gmail, Hangouts, Hotmail, iCloud, Skype, Yahoo, etc.)
- Request for Social Security Number, financial information, or other personal sensitive information
- Failure to provide a clear or accurate job description, including a specific location for the job
- Get rich quick language
- Request to cash fraudulent checks and monetary transfers

Recommended Steps to Take When Subjected to Job-Related Fraud

- Immediately suspend interactions with the fraudulent party.
- Report this activity to the Federal Trade Commission \(FTC\) through their Complaint Team.
- If you have lost money, report it to your local law enforcement.

Note: The best way to apply for jobs at Pure Storage, Inc. or its affiliated subsidiaries is via our careers site at <https://www.purestorage.com/company/careers.html>.