

Dan FitzSimons, Vice President, Americas Sales

Dan serves as Pure's Vice President of Americas Sales. Prior to this role, he was responsible for Pure's West and Central sales teams. Dan is a 20+ year veteran executive with experience in successfully leading global and regional teams varying from start-ups to large technology organizations. With a track record of growing markets both domestically and internationally, Dan excels at developing passionate, high performance sales teams.

Prior to joining Pure, Dan held several executive sales leadership roles, most recently serving as SVP, Global Sales at SOASTA, where he led the team from inception to operating in the Americas, EMEA, and APAC and ultimately to a successful M&A exit. Additional leadership roles include VP of North America at Limelight Networks through an IPO, West leader at Symantec, and VP of Sales at Gartner.